This site is a new endeavor based upon years of work in the medium of 3D photography and web design. It's very experimental in nature (both the subject and the presentation) so I would like to hear any feedback you might have.

Certain sections and features are unlockable. There are power-ups, so if you see something spinning or flashing, grab it and see what you unlock. The puzzles are for your enjoyment. I have a special purpose for these to be implemented later and you have to sign up for the site to play them. Don't worry, it's free.

Below is a very bare-bones registration form. Certain server and data-intensive apps will require registration. You can go ahead and sign-up now if you like. I am working on single-sign on so you can use your twitter and facebook account to sign on. You can then link those accounts to this one.

Thanks so much for your support!

3. Chest w/Cross...if you've got the red/cyan glasses, look at this one in hi-res. yum....if you are a fan of big smooth chests, that is. I edited it to make it pop out of the screen and the freckles added texture.

10. fr33kinmatt asked: I keep seeing your posts... and I keep forgetting to get 3d glasses to actually see them. Haha.

3D glasses are as important as exercise and a balanced diet.
